*At a very young age, I already experience a family problem that causes me trauma, a
lot of times I saw them fighting. One day we are having a family
day in school and my teacher asked me
where my parents and I told her that my parents are busy, when I got home I secretly cried. As I grew up I slowly understand.*

When I was in high school, I had some problems with my relatives, and every time we met I feel so awkward because I feel like they don't like me, the way they look at me I also feel like they judging me, and it feels very uncomfortable. Before I go to sleep I pray and ask why are they acting like that. The next day when I got to school there is one person told me that "As long as you know what the truth is you should not be affected, just be yourself and pray for them" it makes me realize that my prayer has been answered.

The only thing that will make you happy is being happy with who you are, and not who people think you are.

-Goldie Hawn-

"Surround yourself with people who know your worth. You don't need too many people to be happy, just a few real ones who appreciate you for exactly who you are."

When I was in senior high school I always think if I could pass the course that I took. At first, I thought it was easy, but I was wrong because it's getting harder and harder. Until one time our prof gave us an Activity and I was so scared that I can not finish it in time, before I start I pray first and asking him to help me, guide me, and I also believe in him. After one and a half hour, I already finish the activity and I pray again to thank him because I know God help me. And I am very thankful because I already graduated in senior high school.

With God
nothing
shall be impossible

Luke 1:37

the new beginnings
are found in God
Life itself, salvation is found in God. You take my damaged
life, created by my own sin, wash it with God Son's redeeming
blood, and create in me a new beginning!

Yet of everything God has created, He calls You His masterpiece! You are His most outstanding piece of work! Most precious, most beautiful, most cherished, most loved!

out of everything
that God has created,
He loves You most!

Guide me on this new journey, Thank you
Lord for allowing me
to step out of my sinful past, and into the glorious new life
You have planned for me.
