Dambana Gives Their YES!

The subject of my cover magazine is our local hermitage, Dambana Eucharistic Hermitage, giving their YES to the mission of our Lord. I grew up in this place, the home of the Benedictine hermits of the Holy Eucharist, and served as an altar server since my 3rd grade, after my first communion. I am currently working for them as their head IT, I do their livestreams on Sundays, and help building a commission of ministry that serves at their mass. My goal before this pandemic end, is for Dambana to have ministries and leaders that will help assist the hermits here, and for the religious and its community, Dambana family, to experience the true meaning of being a Catholic. Dambana has been home of all the priests, and bishops, in our Diocese. Some are now situated in various areas of the country and even missionaries around the world. My goal and God's will for me, is to expand and make this hermitage online as much as possible for great interactions for those who are weary. Now, as the Catholic Church celebrates its 500 years of presence in the Philippines, as the home of the people who evangelizes the truth, I also give my YES to the mission of our Lord.
